EDWARD S. STUART
A Millionaire Book Man.

Millionaire, mayor of Philadelphia, Governor of Pennsylvania, Edward S. Stuart started as an errand boy in a book store at $3 a week. At the end of 10 years he was given an opportunity to take over the business. He had saved a part of his earnings and was in a position to become proprietor. Through that investment he became a millionaire. Errand boys, clerks, office workers, everyone should have a savings account put aside to take advantage of opportunities offered. Thousands of men and women raise their chance in life because they have nothing saved. One dollar opens an account here.

Members of the Methodist Laymen's association and several pastors in this district, met at the Methodist church Wednesday evening and held a "Booster" banquet. The purpose of the meeting was to boost the conference claimant's fund, a movement to raise $14,000,000 in the Methodist denomination having been started to care for aged ministers and their widows. Five million dollars is the amount asked for by the general conference. The individual annual conferences in their amounts will swell the total to $14,000,000.

Samuel Thatcher, the menu of ham, tongue, potato salad, pickles, rolls, bread and coffee was thoroughly enjoyed. Rev. G. C. Scrivener, district superintendent, was toastmaster, and called upon Rev. J. H. Buckley, chairman of the board of stewards of the Southern New England conference, and pastor of the Rockville Methodist church. The next speaker was Dr. E. E. Bass, of Providence, R. I., the Southern New England agent for the fund. Rev. E. M. Anthony of Jewett City, who has been treasurer of the board for nineteen years, was listened to with close attention. Acting Mayor A. T. The following resolution was adopted: Resolved, that we, Methodist laymen, to the number of fifty-four, assembled in the Methodist Episcopal church of Jewett City, do hereby endorse and support the effort of the New England Southern conference to raise its proportion, $250,000, of the General Conference claimants' fund of $5,000,000. Dog Acts Strangely, Is Chloroformed.

A fine shepherd dog owned by Arthur Warner of 489 Main street, was noticed to act strangely Wednesday. Dr. Dow, after observing the actions of the animal, became suspicious that the case might be one of rabies. Thursday afternoon the dog was chloroformed and the head removed to be sent to the state laboratory for examination. The owner of the dog remembers that a stray dog had attacked and bitten his dog a few days ago which may have resulted in making the Warner dog mad.

Pupils' Clean-up Day.

The Riverside grammar school children observed Clean-up day Thursday by going over the streets and collecting the papers with sticks, in the end of which were nails. Some of them used the sticks and others in their hurry, used their hands, which is not very sanitary. That is the reason why many parents will not permit their children to help clean the streets.

Will Be Held June 5 with Interesting Program.

The Connecticut Agricultural college will hold its annual high school day on Saturday, June 5th. The college is actively cooperating with the student committee and a large attendance is expected. An attractive program has been worked up for the benefit of the guests. The program of the day follows:

Morning—Registration, followed by inspection of grounds and building. Afternoon—Dinner at 12:30 in dining hall; 2 p. m., battalion parade; 3 p. m., athletic events; 5:30, high school day supper.

Evening—7 p. m., entertainment in chapel; 8 p. m., fraternity reception. Efforts will be made to have all the high school faculty and seniors that are coming—remain over Sunday. Rooms, meals and transportation to and from Willimantic will be provided. In the morning the buildings and grounds will be open for inspection and the professors in charge will be present to show the visitors around and answer any questions the students will ask. The students will see that each visitor will be given a royal welcome. At noon there will be a luncheon for the visitors in the dining hall, while President Beach will entertain the visiting teachers.

A parade has been arranged for the C. A. C. battalion at 2 o'clock and various athletic events will complete the afternoon. In the evening there will be a banquet for the visitors at which several prominent members of the faculty and undergraduates will address the visitors. This will be followed by an entertainment in chapel of a three act farce. The fraternity receptions later will give the sub-freshmen a chance to see college life outside of the curriculum really means. Invitations have been sent to all the high schools in the state and responses are coming in fast to the high school day committee which has charge of the day.

Dear Amy:—

Don't you know there are lots of people who would not like their houses to be lifted up so everybody could see the kind of furniture and rugs they have.

You and I wouldn't mind, would we? Aren't our husbands good to us to give us just what-ever we want to beautify our homes with? No wonder we are happy!

But I've always practiced economy in buying things for the home. I've bought the best, it is true, but that is the cheapest.
